

REMARKS

Claims 1-11 and 13-23 are presently pending in the application, of which Claims 1, 13, 18, and 22 are in independent form. Claims 1, 13, 18, 19 and 22 have been amended herein.

Rejections Under 35 U.S.C. § 112, Second Paragraph

Claims 13 and 19 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite due to certain informalities.

By this Amendment, claims 13 and 19 have been amended to attend to the informalities, and applicant respectfully requests withdrawal of the rejections to Claims 13 and 19 under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph.

Rejections Under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) and 35 U.S.C. § 103(a)

Claims 1-10 and 13-22 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent Publication No. 2005/0043065 (Beckanich I).

Claims 11 and 23 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over the hypothetical combination of Bekanich I and U.S. Patent Publication No. 2004/0209595 (Beckanich II).

By this amendment, claim 1 has been amended to recite, inter alia, a "method for capturing information related to usage of a wireless handheld device and attributing said usage to at least one of a plurality of matters." The method comprises the step of "transmitting said captured call record information and said timing of said usage from said wireless handheld device to a database so that communication costs for said usage are attributable to the at least one matter and personal services time for said usage is attributable to the at least one matter, wherein the at least one matter relates to communication with or on behalf of at least one client."

Thus, beneficially, as described in the abstract of the present application as published (see US 2005/0043010 A1), by way of the claimed invention, "communication costs and professional services associated with a handheld device may be recovered." (emphasis added). The claimed invention provides for a method wherein "call record information is matched to a matter in the central database so that costs for the airtime usage are attributable to the matter. Additionally, the professional services associated with the airtime usage is also attributable to the matter." Id. at paragraph [0010].

Beckanich I describes a system whereby professional time is tracked and billed (see Beckanich I at FIG. 5 and paragraph [0058]). Beckanich I does not describe tracking communication costs, let alone the combination recited by amended claim 1 of the present application whereby "communication costs for said usage are attributable to the at least one matter and personal services time for said usage is attributable to the at least one matter."

Beckanich II does not make up for the deficiencies of Beckanich I. Beckanich II describes an apparatus and method for monitoring the time usage of a wireless communication device, but does not describe, either taken alone, or in combination with Beckanich I, a system or method whereby "communication costs for said usage are attributable to the at least one matter and personal services time for said usage is attributable to the at least one matter," as recited by amended claim 1 of the present application.

Independent claims 13, 18 and 22, while different in form and scope to amended claim 1, have been amended in a manner similar to that of claim 1, and each of claims 2-11 and 14-17 and 19-21 and 23 depend from one of claims 1, 13, 18 and 22.

Accordingly, applicant submits that claims 2-11 and 13-23 are patentable over any combination of Beckanich I and Beckanich II for the reasons discussed above with respect to the patentability of claim 1.

Thus, applicant submits that neither Beckanich I nor Beckanich II, either taken alone or in the hypothetical combination proposed by the Examiner, teaches, suggests, or provides motivation for the claimed invention, and withdrawal of the rejections to the claims is requested.
